| U. S. Mother Ready to Enter Red China
With New Plea for Son |

A frail, 64-year-old Yonkers, N. Y., widow, Mrs. Ruth Redmond, arrived in Hong Kong today en route to Red China to plead again for the release of her son.

Hugh F. Redmond, Jr., has served 11 years of a life sentence on espionage charges. His mother said in Hong Kong that she has had, "no indication whatsoever" that the Chinese Communists might release her son, but she added:

"If I fail this time, I will make another plea."

Mrs. Redmond flew half way around the world to spend her son's 23rd birthday anniversary with him and to present her plea. She probably will cross the Communist border Wednesday.

Friends at home pledged the $4,000 to finance Mrs. Redmond's three-week trip. She also visited her son in 1958.
